The Toledo Blade published yesterday upon what it said is absolute authority, the statement that the independent telephone interests recently secured by James S. Bralley and his associates have in reality been secured by the Bell interests. These include the United States Telephone Company (Cleveland), the Cuyahoga Telephone Company (Cleveland), the Toledo Telephone Company, and two independent companies at Indianapolis. The report is denied by the men interested.

At a meeting of the Burley Tobacco Society district committee at Winchester, articles of incorporation were adopted for the proposed Burley Tobacco company under the name of the Burley Tobacco and Insurance Company, which shall have the right to buy, sell or manufacture tobacco. The capital stock was fixed at $2,000,000. It is provided that a certain portion of the capital stock shall be set aside for insurance.

In an open address at Corpus Christi, Tex., before the Interstate Inland Waterways League and the citizens of Corpus Christi, President Taft announced himself as strongly favoring a permanent and practical system of inland waterways as a means of controlling railroad rates, and said that he favored the policy of issuing bonds for carrying out a system of improvements.

Dispatches to Dun's Review indicate that in some sections where temperatures remain too high for a full distribution of reasonable goods, expansion in mercantile activity continues unabated. Aside from uneasiness at cotton mills because of the high price of the raw material, the industrial situation is especially bright, particularly in iron and steel.

NEW METHODS ARE NECESSARY

President Discusses Waterway Improvements.

Compulsory Piecemeal Policy Must Be Abandoned.

Strongly Favors Bond Issues for River Work.

SPEAKS AT CORPUS CHRISTI.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 22.—Announcing himself as an enthusiastic advocate of deep waterways, when such projects can be shown to be practicable and necessary and declaring that the piecemeal "procession by jerks" policy of Congress in the past with reference to such improvements should be replaced with a definite general plan for opening up great avenues of commerce, President Taft aroused the delegates to the convention of the Interstate Inland Waterways League, in session here, to-day to an enthusiastic demonstration of approval.

Continuing the President said that in addition to extending commerce, deep inland waterways would serve as the best means of controlling railroad rates. In the meantime, however, he urged the amendment of the interstate commerce laws to make their provisions more effective.

Opposes Radical Legislation.

Mr. Taft added, however, that he did not favor radical legislation; that his purpose merely was to keep railroad companies within the bounds of law and to prevent any radical legislation of the railroad could anywhere be found except, perhaps, the local council. The remark called out hearty laughter.

The President turned serious again and urged a "square deal" for the railroad. He said that he might not be deprived of reasonable profits through popular prejudice.

Puts Blame on Congress.

The President declared that the halting sporadic system of river and harbor improvements in the past was not due to the lack of money, but was the work of the committees in Congress, who had responded to clamor from some place on the Atlantic seaboard a distance of 3,000 miles, the subject was taken up in earnest.

The club presented him with a bag of nine splendid golf clubs as a souvenir of the occasion. The President and several members of his party dismounted and played a round of golf. The President enjoyed his vacation immensely.

Suffers From Heat.

The day was exceedingly warm. When he began to speak Mr. Taft asked his hearers to preserve themselves in peace and to console themselves by the thought that before he was through he would be considerably warmer than any who had to sit in the direct rays of the sun.

The club presented him with a bag of nine splendid golf clubs as a souvenir of the occasion. The President and several members of his party dismounted and played a round of golf. The President's Speech.

In his address here to-day the President said: "The subject of the conservation of our national resources received its first impulse from that crusader and reformer, Theodore Roosevelt. He pointed out how wasteful we had been in the past in these things. He saw that God had showered upon the country and yet which had limitations which, if we did not take them into account, would bring us to a famine in respect to many of them."

"The programme of conservation is a long one. It is one in respect to which we have taken some important steps. Of the Government forests we have secured about 70 per cent. of the reservations under control, so that we shall not suffer from the forest fires or the denudation of private ground."

His Recommendations.

"We have not yet adopted the laws, but I hope to recommend them to Congress, by which the Government shall retain some control over the use of the public domain and protect it with only under such conditions as shall enable the Government to secure a proper revenue therefrom, and to regulate the rates for power charged by those who shall take possession of those sites and transform the water power into electricity, by which the phosphate lands of the Government containing immeasurable wealth in respect to the fertilizer of the soil of the West, by which we shall retain hold over those leasing them or parting with them on lease, so that we can prevent the exportation of the phosphate or the charging of too high rates for its use.

Haphazard Work.

"We have invested about $600,000,000 in our waterways and we have done very good work with reference to sea harbors, and we have done some excellent work when the work was specified in helping to make our rivers more navigable, but the trouble with the work has been that it has been done largely by piecemeal. It has not carried out a theory or a great project with reference to the establishment of a general system of transportation and the time has arrived for changing our policy in that regard."

MAURA'S DOWNFALL CAUSES REJOICING

HOPE FOR PERIOD OF TRANQUILLITY IN SPAIN.

PREDECESSOR WILL REVERSE PREDECESSOR'S POLICY.

RADICALS WILL OPPOSE HIM.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—The fall of Premier Maura and the Conservative Cabinet has produced a feeling of relief and encourages hope that a period of internal tranquillity has been ushered in. It is now an open secret that Maura's refusal to give Alfonso an opportunity to pardon Ferrer is regretted by his Majesty.

In an interview to-day Senor Morey Prendergast, Premier of the new Liberal Cabinet, explained that because of recent personal bereavement he had lost by death his wife, his son and a daughter, and the fact of his advancing years, he had not wished to assume power.

Nevertheless the unfortunate situation at home and the distrust of the Spanish Government as manifested abroad had convinced him that it was his patriotic duty to accept the leadership. He declared that the Liberal Government would exactly reverse the policy of Maura and maintain social order with due respect for the law.

Most of the Republican Senators and Deputies expressed themselves as satisfied with the abdication of Maura, particularly as they believe that it marks the end of clerical influence with the Government.

However, radical members of the Cortes like Deputy Serano, who is also editor of Espana Nueva, announced an intention to fight the new Ministry because of its alleged monarchal tendencies. They predicted a series of swift changes in the Government, and that which began with the insurrection in the fleet in 1868 and culminated in the fall of the Republic.

The Liberal papers are filled to-day with rejoicing over what they call the end of the tyrannical rule of Maura. The El Pais, a Republican organ, declared that the new Government will be brought to a prompt and honorable conclusion "to avoid the ruin of the country." The El Pais demands also the passage of anti-clerical laws similar to those of France.

FIFTEEN MILLIONS FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

B. AND O. RAILROAD COMPANY SHOWS FAITH IN FUTURE OF BUSINESS.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—In addition to the order for fifty more of the heaviest type freight locomotives placed last week with the Pullman Company, the Baltimore and Ohio board of directors at its last meeting authorized the immediate ordering of 3,000 steel hopper cars, 2,000 steel tank cars, 2,000 steel box cars, and 1,000 steel gondola cars.

Six millions of dollars will be the cost of the new equipment. The orders not long ago placed for new equipment, such now totaling 110 locomotives, 2,500 tank cars, 1,000 gondola cars, 500 box cars, 2,000 steel cars and 4,000 hopper cars.

The locomotives, as also the cars, are all to be of the largest capacity, the cars steel and of the latest design. Coal shippers will learn of the big order composed of Pullman, Bethlehem, and also of the continued great activity in the company's shops in putting present equipment in best possible shape for immediate service. Some fifteen millions for new equipment shows the Baltimore and Ohio's faith in the permanency of business demands.

BURLEY TOBACCO BUSINESS END

Articles of Incorporation for Company Adopted.

Trading, Manufacturing and Insurance.

Capital $2,000,000. With $20,000,000 Debt Limit.

ATTACK ON MR. LE BUS.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The district committee of the Burley Tobacco Society this afternoon adopted articles of incorporation of the proposed Burley Tobacco Company. The name of the company is the Burley Tobacco and Insurance Company, with its principal office at Lexington.

The company shall have the right to buy, sell or manufacture tobacco, to acquire and dispose of real estate, machinery, and to do all things convenient or necessary for the transaction of its business and to insure the pooled tobacco of the Burley Society.

Capital $2,000,000.

The capital stock is fixed at $2,000,000, and its highest indebtedness at $20,000,000. The par value of the stock is $100 per share and the power of voting this stock is vested in the district committee of the Burley Tobacco Society.

It is to begin business at once and to exist for 100 years.

The board of directors shall consist of not less than ten nor more than 100 members. A certain proportion of the capital stock shall be set apart for insurance and other portions for the incorporation shall be held. The articles as finally submitted were adopted by a unanimous vote.

Attack on President LeBus.

W. A. Beatty, editor of the Winchester News, made a bitter speech, in which he abused President LeBus. He claimed that LeBus for the removal of the headquarters from Winchester to Lexington, and said the change was made so that the pool could be the easier dominated by Mr. LeBus and the committee. He said those who had pooled their tobacco in Clark county were no longer entitled to the pool, and asked that Clark county tobacco be released from the pool.

Committeeman Asks LeBus.

LeBus turned to S. T. Gay, the member of the district committee from Clark county, and asked him if this was the feeling of the growers of Clark county, and Gay answered that it was an assertion which was backed up by members of the Clark county board of control who were present. As a matter of fact, the Clark county books and pledges have not been turned over to the district board, and no one seems to know where they are.

The Pool in Nicholas.

Carlsale, Ky., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Nicholas County Board of Control of the Burley Tobacco Society reports that up to date 3,775 acres of the 1909 crop of tobacco in Nicholas county have been pooled. About 5,000 acres were raised in this county this year. A number of crops have been sold by independent growers to Equity men to have placed their purchases in the pool.

Lawlessness Denounced.

Danville, Va., Oct. 22.—The Farmers' Tobacco Union at its session here adopted the following resolution, which has just been made public: "Resolved, That the Farmers' Tobacco Union of Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia denounce in no uncertain terms any act of lawlessness of any nature or kind whatsoever."

Price $8 a Hundred.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 22.—The executive committee of the Stemming District Association agreed upon an average price of $8 per 100 pounds for the entire 1909 crop of tobacco in the district composed of Crittenden, Randolph, Hopkins, Union and Webster counties. Prices on grades will be determined later.

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN PASSES AWAY.

Lyman McCarty, General Eastern Passenger Agent For B. and O. In New York, Dies.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Lyman McCarty, for the past ten years assistant general manager and agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in New York, died in that city yesterday following an operation for malignant cancer. Mr. McCarty was appointed assistant general passenger agent in 1889, and was transferred to Philadelphia as city passenger and ticket agent in 1904. He was the Baltimore and Ohio direct line to that city.

He was made city passenger agent in New York on January 1, 1892. Three years later being promoted to general Eastern passenger agent, and in 1899 was appointed assistant general passenger agent. Mr. McCarty was 65 years old, and prior to entering the Baltimore and Ohio service was for a number of years passenger agent at Kansas City of the old North Missouri railroad, now a part of the Wabash system. His funeral will be held in

MURDERER OF FAMILY PAYS DEATH PENALTY.

Will Stevenson, Who Killed His Wife and Daughter, Hanged At Luverne, Ala.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 22.—Will Stevenson, murderer of his wife and daughter in Crenshaw county a few months ago, was hanged this morning at Luverne. The condemned man went to his death without a quiver and without a murmur of prayer. A signed statement, written by the murderer, was placed in the hands of J. M. Buchanan, a Luverne banker. The statement of Stevenson, made public this afternoon, called upon all young men to avoid whisky. "It ruined me," the statement reads, "and it will ruin any other who allows it to get the best of them."

SIX MEN KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK

HEAD-ON COLLISION ON PANHANDLE AT COLLINSVILLE, O.

PASSENGER FLYER RUNS INTO AN OPEN SWITCH.

NO PASSENGERS LOSE LIVES.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 22.—Six persons were killed in a wreck on the Pan Handle division of the Pennsylvania railroad near Collinsville, O., at 4:30 o'clock to-day, when a southbound passenger train No. 18 ran into a freight train on an open siding. A relief train with medical aid has been sent from New York State, and had been waiting some influence in national politics.

In Legislature Since 1882.

Patrick Henry McCarren, by trade a cooper, by profession a lawyer, and by vocation a politician, was one of the most picturesque figures in the political history of greater New York. No leader was ever more roundly condemned, yet at the close of sixty-one years of his life he was probably the most strongly-intrenched leader in New York State, and had been wielding some influence in national politics.

Born in East Cambridge, Mass., he settled in Brooklyn when he was 8 years old and was graduated from the public school. He was admitted to the bar when, but having mastered his trade, he answered the call to something more intellectual. He took up the law and from the law went into politics. In 1882 he was sent to the assembly and had since served almost continuously in the Legislature. He was elected to the Senate in 1893, but two years later was defeated. Elected again in 1895, it was to stay there regularly until his death.

Becomes Leader in Brooklyn.

Senator McCarren first became recognized as a coming leader in the days when David B. Hill was at the height of his power. By 1888 he had become so well recognized that the Democratic State Committee made him head of the executive committee. Five years later he wrested the leadership of Brooklyn from Hugh McLaughlin, who had held it for forty years. Since that time the Senator has won all primary elections, his political death was predicted each year. At the Democratic National Convention in 1904, he was elected to the position of remaining in line, following the arrival of the famous "Gold" telegram, sent to McCarren's supporters.

Charged With Treason.

McCarren's opposition to the candidacy of Mr. Hearst for governor led to charges of treason against him and his delegates were excluded from the party convention in 1904. He was named delegate to the Denver national convention. Nevertheless he appeared there with delegates, who were again excluded. His downward career was constantly predicted, but only last month he received what he regarded as final vindication when he won nineteen of the twenty-three districts of his borough.

Tall and Lank in Figure.

Physically, Senator McCarren was very tall and lank. His face was almost featureless, his eyes were small, but he was courteous and generous of attention, but nigardly of speech. The qualities which, in the opinion of his friends, contributed most to his success in politics, were keenness, tenacity of purpose, personal fidelity, perfect self-control and patience. He was sometimes called a hard man, devoid of sentiment. "I had a romance once," he said to a friend, "but I was a young man I fell in love with a girl and we were married. We lived very happily. I was 21 I had buried my wife and five children."

AGED VIRGINIA MURDERER ESCAPES THE GALLOWS.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Elijah Wright, the aged Virginia murderer, who was scheduled as the last man to be executed by hanging in that State, has escaped such a fate as the result of his third trial at Clintwood, Dickenson county. He was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary for the murder of William Sifers.

PROMINENT DISTILLER DIES AT NEWPORT.

NEWPORT, KY., OCT. 22.—(Special.)—O. Maddux, a prominent distiller, died to-night at his home on East Fourth street. He had been unconscious from dropsy for two days and succumbed to the malady. He had been prominent in the business life of North Kentucky for thirty years. His wife, one son, Lieut. Rufus T. Maddux, at Key West, Fla., and one daughter, Miss Louise Maddux, survive.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY FOR MCCONAGHY CASE.

Covington, Ky., Oct. 22.—In the Federal Court to-day Judge Cochran overruled demurrers to six counts in the indictment against Charles McConaghy, former cashier, who was indicted for alleged defrauding a bank at Monticello, Ky. The demurrers of other counts were sustained. On motion of District Attorney Tinsley a special grand jury was convened and the case was referred to it.

Leg Broken By Fall.

Marionville, Ky., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Dickens Rees, a prominent young merchant of Mesheuk, three miles from the place, fell through a door into the cellar of his store and broke his right leg above the knee. He is also thought to be injured internally and is in a precarious condition, with only slight hopes of recovery.

CHILD FATALLY SCALDED IN TUB.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 22.—The five-year-old daughter of William Symonds fell into a tub of hot water to-day and was fatally scalded.

LIFE ENDS FOR P. H. MCCARREN

After Game Fight Noted Politician Dies.

Long Prominent in New York Legislature.

From Cooper's Trade to Great Party Leader.

VICTIM OF APPENDICITIS.

New York, Oct. 22.—Patrick H. McCarren, State Senator and Democratic leader of Brooklyn, died at St. Catherine's Hospital, Brooklyn, at 1:10 o'clock this morning, never having completely rallied from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, which was performed on October 13.

His death was not unexpected. In fact, the Senator himself realized throughout the afternoon and the earlier part of the night that his end was near.

"MODERN HOUSEHOLD" SUBJECT OF LECTURE.

Miss Sophonisba Breckinridge, Dean of University of Chicago, Delivers Address.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—American families are under the subject of the maid of all work, according to Dean Sophonisba Breckinridge of the University of Chicago, who lectured on "The Modern Household" yesterday at the university. The hand that dusts the furniture, she said, rules the house. Dean Breckinridge believes "The modern housewife employs her maid more for the purpose of maintaining a respectable appearance than for services rendered," she said. "Women seem to think they are obliged to have servants whether they need them or not. It is simply a question of good form."

ATONIA, Ky., Oct. 22.—(Special.)

Conditions were ideal overhead, and though the track still remained in a heavy condition, racing at the Midvale course this afternoon was of a much improved order. The beautiful autumn weather, combined with the exceptionally well-balanced card, attracted another big crowd to the course, and with public choice talent, resulted in a winning way, the favorite experienced much the best of the speculative argument. At least three killings were successfully engineered and outside hand-locks late last night reported heavy losses by virtue of these coups.

Hughie McCarren, one of the best-known horsemen in this part, uncovered a sleeper in the opener. This was Enlist, and McCarren and his friends are reported as having won several thousand dollars on the race. Those in the know valued Enlist as a "hot" horse, and the "works in" on the good thing, getting as good as 10 to 1 for his money. Barriada, at 15, with all the Cincinnati friends of Frank Gerling about, was the outsider that upset the odds for the favorite in the second. Thomas Calhoun was the public choice in this event, but the seedling trick ran as if slightly short, stopping badly after top-swinging his neck for three-quarters of a mile.

Possibly the biggest killing of the afternoon was engineered on the victory of Lottie Darr. The Lottys have been given a special prep at Churchill Downs and had been shipped here only a few days ago, especially for this race. Hayes took no chance, but dropped his bet, entering into a soft spot and was out, winning off by herself with as good as 5 to 2 favored, though it looked for a moment as if Donau, the public choice in the fifth and feature event, was disqualified. Pages, on the other hand, who the Gerling club had fouled his mount, the judges' decision in not allowing the claim was warmly applauded. This proved the best of the day, narrowing down, as it did, to a blanket finish between the first three.

Jockey Lloyd, who is connected with the stable of Johnny P. Jones, has been coming from Canada, and brings the fact that his employer intends shipping to this track at the end of the week.

Enlist a Good Thing.

Hughie McCarren slipped over a good thing on the unassuming talent in the opener, and Enlist was the one to carry the scariest and white of the New York cubage man's victory. Enlist was a colt of the year, and was quoted as being a "hot" horse, and was the one to carry the scariest and white of the New York cubage man's victory. Enlist was a colt of the year, and was quoted as being a "hot" horse, and was the one to carry the scariest and white of the New York cubage man's victory.

Barriada Takes Second.

The odds-on favorite fell by the wayside in the second race, but Enlist, who was as good as 15 to 1, was quoted as being a "hot" horse, and was the one to carry the scariest and white of the New York cubage man's victory. Enlist was a colt of the year, and was quoted as being a "hot" horse, and was the one to carry the scariest and white of the New York cubage man's victory.

Tom Hayes Makes a Killing.

Tom Hayes and his friends won nice bets on the victory of Lottie Darr in the third. This good filly had been given a special prep at Churchill Downs and had been shipped here only a few days ago, especially for this race. Hayes took no chance, but dropped his bet, entering into a soft spot and was out, winning off by herself with as good as 5 to 2 favored, though it looked for a moment as if Donau, the public choice in the fifth and feature event, was disqualified. Pages, on the other hand, who the Gerling club had fouled his mount, the judges' decision in not allowing the claim was warmly applauded. This proved the best of the day, narrowing down, as it did, to a blanket finish between the first three.

Dargin Scores Again.

Old Dargin won himself another heat, ennobling the winner's portion of the purse in the fourth. The Schreiber candidate also was the medium of heavy speculation, and his victory was welcome to the talent. E. M. Fry went out to make a runaway of the race and looked all over the field, winning by a home stretch. The Hatfield sprinter, however, quit badly after going five-eighths and was lucky to be second, as Posing, under more capable handling, would have been close up only five starters back in the race. The balance of the field, with the exception of Silver Stocking, were outclassed.

Donau First by a Nose.

The fifth and feature event brought together a well-balanced card of youngsters which furnished one of the best contests of the afternoon. It required an eagle eye to separate the place horses at the finish. Donau, the public choice, won the decision by a nose over Royal Rover after a desperate struggle. The latter was sharply interfered with, and Posing, who had been a claim of four against the winner, but it was not allowed. The better racing luck Royal Rover would have won. Only five horses faced the barrier and the balance of the field, with the exception of Hatchcock, which dropped out, were outclassed.

Bonnie Bard in a Gallop.

The closing event was all Bonnie Bard's. The Kelly trick went to the front at once and opened up a big early lead, which he continued to increase as the race progressed. He was pounds the best and was only galloping the last half mile, but it was not allowed. The better racing luck Royal Rover would have won. Only five horses faced the barrier and the balance of the field, with the exception of Hatchcock, which dropped out, were outclassed.

that very heavy shipments of securities were in transit from London to New York. It is the custom of the stock market to borrow stocks for delivery which are sold on foreign account, pending the arrival of the certificates of stocks. Actual payment for such stocks, therefore, is delayed until their arrival from London.

The week's currency movement with the latter afforded some relief to sentiment over the money position. The week's higher money
